HISTORY OF THE TOURNAMENT OF ROSES

The world famous Tournament of Roses Parade has been held on the streets of Pasadena, California, every New Year's Day (except during WWII) since 1890. It has no match in spectacular beauty and originality and now attracts a world audience in person and through the mediums of television, radio, motion pictures, newspapers, and magazines estimated conservatively at 125 million.

Originally the Tournament of Roses was a small village celebration in which members of the Valley Hunt Club of Pasadena would decorate their buggies and surreys with flowers grown in their own gardens. The idea was conceived by Dr. Charles Frederick Holder, who migrated to Pasadena after a distinguished career as an Eastern professor.

One New Year's Day a visiting newspaperman from the East saw this flower parade in the midst of winter and was so impressed that he wrote a story that was copied by big city papers of Los Angeles, Chicago, and New York.

This first publicity started a flow of visitors to Pasadena from far away points who wished to see for themselves this New Year's Day spectacle. In five years the parade had become so famous and the problems so numerous that the Valley Hunt Club relinquished its sponsorship to a committee of community leaders who formed the Tournament of Roses Association. This is a non-profit Association of 1,400 volunteers, who devote 65,000 hours annually towards producing the Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game. It is now a year-round organization to this non-commercial civic promotion.

The 1983 Rose Parade features 60 floats, 22 bands and 230 equestrians saluting "Rejoice." Nearly 4,000 musicians march in the floral festival.

Throughout the years the Tournament has maintained high standards and utilizes only fresh flowers in the decoration of the floats. Judges award 18 prizes in both commercial and non-commercial divisions. The theme, selected by Tournament President Thornton H. Hamlin, Jr., is carried out in the decorating of the parade floats. Past parade themes have been "Melodies in Flowers," "Fairytale," "Dreams of the Future," "Victory, Unity and Peace," "Our Wonderful World of Sports," "The Great Outdoors" and "Friends and Neighbors."

Merlin Olsen, one of football's greatest defensive players and now the popular star of NBC's "Father Murphy" television series, will lead the festivities as Grand Marshal. Olsen will also serve as the color commentator on the NBC telecast of the Rose Bowl Game.

The 65th Rose Queen is Suzanne Kay Gillaspie, a 17-year-old high school senior from San Marino. The princesses on her Royal Court are Monica Auzenne, Shandrea Gilchrist, Heather Hall, Mary Hernandez, Laurie Matlock and Dawn Wilson.

HISTORY OF THE GAME

At the end of the 1901 season, Michigan was prevailed upon to play Stanford in an "East-West" game at Tournament Park. The contest took place on January 1, 1902, with Michigan winning by a score of 49-0. Following this, the game was discontinued until the first day of 1916 when Washington State defeated Brown University 14-0.

The contest continued to be known as the "East-West" game until the 1923 game was played at the newly-constructed Rose Bowl, and the University of Southern California defeated Pennsylvania State 14-3.

The original Tournament Park (in 1902) held about 10,000 fans, although only 8,500 attended the Stanford-Michigan contest. Prior to the 1917 game the seating capacity was increased to 30,000.

The new Rose Bowl originally was a horseshoe affair running north and south with the opening at the south end. It seated 57,000. The capacity was then progressively increased in 1929 to 76,000; in 1932 to 83,677, and in 1938 to 90,000. Another increase in capacity took place during the year 1949, the funds being raised by public subscription. The 1950 Rose Bowl game set a record of 100,963 fans.

The present Rose Bowl was actually dedicated on October 28, 1922, with a football game between the University of California and the University of Southern California before a crowd of 35,000. California won the game, 12-0.

Prior to 1935 the Western team in the game was invited by the Tournament of Roses Association.

The Tournament also selected the Eastern team until 1923. From 1923 through 1946 the Western team selected its Eastern opponent. From 1946 until 1959 the old Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Ten selected representatives.

Under a new agreement, starting with the 1960 game, the Pacific-10 selects a representative from among its conference members. The conference also selected its opponent for the 1961 and 1962 games. Following 1962 a new contract was signed with the Big Ten for it to provide the Pac-10's opponent.

The Big Ten leads the Pacific-10, 19-17, since the series began in 1947, but the Pac-10 has won 11 of the last 13 and seven of the last eight meetings.

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

Michigan 49, Stanford 0

Neil Snow, Michigan fullback, scored five touchdowns as the Wolverines' "Point a Minute" team trounced Stanford 49-0. Michigan completed its season with an 11-0 record and outscored its opponents by a total score of 550-0! Willie Heston, famed Michigan back rushed for 170 yards on 18 carries. Touchdowns counted five points, field goals five and conversions one, and the game was played on a 110-yard field at Tournament Park before 8,000 spectators.

(In 1903, polo replaced football as the sports attraction, but lured a crowd of only 2,000 people. From 1904 through 1915, the Tournament held chariot races. The 1915 race drew 25,000 spectators, but dwindling interest and economic factors persuaded the Tournament to return to football as the main attraction in 1916.)

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

Washington State 14, Brown 0

A deluge of rain hit Tournament Park as Washington State became the first Western victor, defeating Brown, 14-0. Carl Dietz rushed for 105 yards and one touchdown, R.R. Boone added 86 yards and another score, and the Cougar defense held Brown to 86 total yards. Washington State completed its season with a 7-0 mark.

1917

Oregon 14, Pennsylvania 0

Oregon became the second straight Western winner, upsetting heavily favored Pennsylvania, 14-0, as a crowd of 25,000 looked on. Duck tackle John Beckett was named Player of the Game, and Shy Hunington ran for 69 yards, one touchdown and made two conversions. Lou Little, later a famous coach at Columbia, played tackle for Penn and Bert Bell, who later became NFL commissioner was the quarterback.

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

1918

Mare Island Marines 19, Camp Lewis Army 7

The country was at war, and college football was virtually non-existent. President Woodrow Wilson approved the game, and the Mare Island Marines defeated Camp Lewis Army, 19-7. Hollis Hunington, who had played with Oregon in the 1917 game, ran for 111 yards and was Player of the Game. Profits from the game were turned over to the Red Cross.

Great Lakes Navy 17, Mare Island Marines 0

The all-around efficiency of Paddy Driscoll led Great Lakes Navy to a 17-0 triumph over Mare Island Marines. Driscoll ran for 34 yards, passed for 77 yards and one touchdown, returned punts for 115 yards, averaged 43.3 yards per punt, set up a touchdown with a pass reception, and drop-kicked a field goal. His touchdown pass went 45 yards to George Halas, who later became coach and owner of the Chicago Bears.

1920

Harvard 7, Oregon 6

Harvard traveled 3,000 miles to nip Oregon, 7-6, as the smallest player ever to appear in the Rose Bowl, 128-pound Skeet Manerud kicked one field goal for Oregon and narrowly missed a second which would have given the Ducks a victory. The 30,000 seats in Tournament Park sold for 65 cents each.

1921

California 28, Ohio State 0

Harold "Brick" Muller, California's great end, took charge of the 1921 Rose Bowl game, setting up the Bears' first score with a pass reception and throwing a 52-yard aerial to Brodie Stephens for another in a 28-0 victory over Ohio State. California finished the season with a 9-0 record, earning the title of being the Bears' first "Wonder Team."

1922

California 0, Washington & Jefferson 0

Rain before and during the 1922 game turned Tournament Park into a quagmire as little Washington & Jefferson, with an enrollment of 450 students, stunned California in a 0-0 tie. Russell Stein, W&J end and tackle, was the game's outstanding player. Brick Muller, California end, suffered from neck and leg injuries and played only sparingly.

1923

Southern California 14, Penn State 3

In the first game played in the Rose Bowl, USC, a substitute Western entry for California, which had declined the invitation, defeated Penn State, 14-3. USC's first touchdown was set up by Harold Galloway, who caught a pass while flat on his back at the two-yard line. Penn State arrived at the game 45 minutes late after being caught in a traffic jam, and the game concluded in moonlight as sportwriters had to strike matches to complete their stories.

Washington 14, Navy 14

Navy, invited before the season even began, and Washington, invited on December 4, fought to a 14-14 tie. Navy completed its first 14 pass attempts, including 11 in the first half en route to a 14-7 lead, and finished the game with 16 completions in 20 tries. Les Sherman of Washington kicked two conversions despite a broken toe.

Notre Dame 27, Stanford 10

The Four Horsemen vs. Ernie Nevers. Knute Rockne vs. Pop Warner. A classic match saw Notre Dame take advantage of Stanford errors for a 27-10 victory. Nevers, recovering from two broken ankles, rushed 34 times for 114 yards. Stanford gained 298 yards to Notre Dame's 179, but Elmer Layden's three touchdowns were decisive.

1926

Alabama 20, Washington 19

A missed conversion spelled doom for Washington in a 20-19 loss to Alabama, the first southern team to play in the Rose Bowl. George Wilson, Washington's one-man team, rushed for 134 yards despite missing one quarter with injuries. Johnny Mack Brown, later of Hollywood fame, ran for 76 yards and two touchdowns for Alabama.

Stanford 7, Alabama 7

Alabama turned a blocked punt into a touchdown in the final minute of play to tie Stanford. Tide tackle Clarke Pearce blocked Frankie Wilton's punt and Alabama marched the remaining 14 yards to tie the score. Stanford gained 305 yards to Alabama's 98. The game was a sellout within a week and was heard over the first coast-to-coast radio hook-up.

1928

Stanford 7, Pittsburgh 6

Frankie Wilton shed his goat's horns and donned a hero's halo as Stanford edged Pittsburgh, 7-6. Wilton, whose punt was blocked to set up an Alabama TD in 1927, fumbled into the hands of Jimmy Hagan, who promptly ran 17 yards for a touchdown. But he redeemed himself by grabbing a teammate's fumble on fourth down and running five yards for the winning score against Pitt.

Georgia Tech 8, California 7

Probably the most famous bonehead play in history occurred in 1929, as California center Roy Riegels picked up a Georgia Tech fumble on Tech's 20-yard line, turned and ran in the wrong direction toward his own goal. As his teammates blocked fiercely, Cal's Benny Lom saw the mistake and chased Riegels down at the one-yard line. On the next play, Lom's punt was blocked by Tech, resulting in a two-point safety which decided the game. Two other breaks plagued the Bears. On a quick kick, the air went completely out of the ball and it fell flat. A California touchdown was called back because of the referee's quick whistle on a fumble.

Southern California 47, Pittsburgh 14

Quarterbacks Russ Saunders and Marshall Duffield combined to pass for 279 yards and four touchdowns to lead Coach Howard Jones' first USC Rose Bowl team past Pittsburgh, 47-14. Saunders' first three passes went for touchdowns, two to Trojan end Harry Edelson. USC built a 26-0 halftime lead in coasting to the triumph.

1931

Alabama 24, Washington State 0

Monk Campbell ran for 115 yards and two touchdowns to lead Alabama to a methodical 24-0 triumph over Washington State. It was Wallace Wade's final game as Alabama coach before moving on to Duke. Washington State standouts included tackle Glenn "Turk" Edwards and center Mel Hein.

1932

Southern California 21, Tulane 12

Ernie Pinckert ran for touchdowns of 25 and 30 yards to lead Southern California's Thundering Herd to a 21-0 halftime lead, and the Trojans held off Bernie Bierman's Tulane team in the second half for a 21-12 victory. Six USC players on that team were named All-American during their college career.

1933

Southern California 35, Pittsburgh 0

Quarterback Cotton Warburton scored two touchdowns as Southern California wore down a lighter Pittsburgh team for a 35-0 win. Warburton, a 145-pounder who went on to become one of the Trojans' greatest backs, broke the game open in the second half.

1934

Columbia 7, Stanford 0

Torrential rains flooded the Rose Bowl and more than 2½ million gallons of water were pumped out by local fire departments to set the stage of Columbia's 7-0 upset over the first of Stanford's "Vow Boy" teams. A 17-yard scamper on a hidden ball play by Columbia's Al Barabas was the only touchdown of the day. Stanford's Bobby Grayson rushed for 152 yards, 45 more than the entire Columbia team could manage both rushing and passing.

1935

Alabama 29, Stanford 13

Dixie Howell and Don Hutson put on a memorable two-man show to lead Alabama past Stanford, 29-13. Howell completed nine of 12 passes for 160 yards, rushed for 79 more, returned four kicks for 74 yards and punted six times for a 44.8-yard average. Hutson caught six passes for 164 yards and two touchdowns.

1936

Stanford 7, Southern Methodist 0

Stanford's "Vow Boys" made their third consecutive appearance and grabbed their first Rose Bowl victory, edging Southern Methodist, 7-0. SMU had defeated TCU and its famed passer, Sammy Baugh, to get into the Rose Bowl. A one-yard plunge by Stanford's Bill Paulman was the game's only score. 84,784 tickets were sold and requests for 200,000 more had to be turned down.

Pittsburgh 21, Washington 0

All-American end Bill Daddio's 71-yard touchdown run with an interception highlighted Pittsburgh's 21-0 victory over Washington. Daddio plucked a lateral out of the air and raced for the touchdown and a Rose Bowl record. Another record was set by the crowd of 87,196 fans, largest in Rose Bowl history at that time.

1938

California 13, Alabama 0

Halfback Vic Bottari ran for 137 yards and two touchdowns to lead California past Alabama, 13-0, handing the Crimson Tide its first Rose Bowl loss in five attempts. The crowd had swollen to 89,650.

1939

Southern California 7, Duke 3

A fourth string quarterback, Doyle Nave, who had played only 28½ minutes all year, came off the bench to fire four straight passes to second team end Al Krueger, the last a 19-yard touchdown aerial, in the last two minutes to edge Duke, 7-3. Those were the only points scored on Duke all season.

Southern California overpowered Tennessee, 14-0, to hand the Volunteers their first loss in 24 games and to give Trojan coach Howard Jones, who died in the spring of 1941, a perfect 5-0 record in the Rose Bowl. USC's final touchdown was scored by Al Krueger, who had caught the winning TD pass in 1939.

Stanford 21, Nebraska 13

This Rose Bowl game made football history by making the country conscious of the new "T" formation. Coach Clark Shaughnessy introduced it at Stanford with quarterback Frankie Albert at the controls. With Albert at the helm and Pete Kmetovic running for 141 yards and returning a punt for a touchdown, Stanford defeated Nebraska, 21-13.

1942

Oregon State 20, Duke 16

Because of a blackout of the West Coast, this was the only Rose Bowl game played outside of Pasadena. Played at Durham, N.C., before a crowd of 56,000 that was a sellout three days after tickets went on sale, Oregon State defeated Duke, 20-16, on a 68-yard pass from Bob Dethman to Gene Gray. The Duke quarterback was Tommy Prothro, who later coached Oregon State and UCLA in Rose Bowl appearances.

1943

Georgia 9, UCLA 0

Georgia, led by Frankie Sinkwich and Charley Trippi, outmuscled UCLA, 9-0. Sinkwich, an All-American running back, scored the game's only touchdown despite two sore ankles while Trippi, his substitute, ran for 130 yards and passed for 96 more. Bob Waterfield quarterbacked UCLA.

Southern California 29, Washington 0

In the only Rose Bowl game which was not intersectional (because of wartime travel restrictions), Southern California raced past Washington, 29-0. Quarterback Jim Hardy led the Trojans, throwing three touchdown passes. Washington entered the game as a strong favorite.

1945

Southern California 25, Tennessee 0

Quarterback Jim Hardy passed for two touchdowns and ran for a third as Southern California defeated Tennessee, 25-0. Hardy thus in two games threw for five touchdowns and scored a sixth. Tennessee fielded a predominantly freshman team.

1946

Alabama 34, Southern California 14

Harry Gilmer known more as a passer, ran for 113 yards while Alabama's defense choked off Southern California to give the Crimson Tide a 34-14 victory. Alabama allowed USC just six yards rushing and 35 passing. It was USC's first loss in the Rose Bowl following eight victories.

Illinois 45, UCLA 14

In the first game after the pact between Big Ten and Pacific Coast representatives was signed, Illinois rolled over UCLA, 45-14. Julius Rykovich ran for 107 yards and Charles "Buddy" Young added 103 for the Illini. UCLA's Al Hoisch, at 138 pounds the second lightest player in Rose Bowl history, ran a kickoff back 103 yards for a touchdown.

Michigan 49, Southern California 0

Michigan, under Coach Fritz Crisler gunning for the national championship, defeated USC, 49-0, to duplicate its 1902 triumph. Halfback Robert Chappuis ran for 91 yards, passed for 188, and made six key plays which set up or scored five touchdowns. One was an 11-yard touchdown pass to Bump Elliott, current Iowa athletic director.

1949

Northwestern 20, California 14

A 43-yard run in the final three minutes of play by Ed Tunnicklift lifted Northwestern past California, 20-14. Earlier, Frank Aschenbrenner of the Wildcats had run 73 yards for a score and Cal's Jackie Jensen responded one minute later with a 67-yard touchdown dash. Northwestern's second score came on a one-yard plunge by Art Murakowski, who fumbled as he neared or crossed the goal line, sparking a hot dispute.

Ohio State 17, California 14

A bad center snap on a punt attempt set up James Hague's 17-yard field goal to enable Ohio State to edge California, 17-14. Fred "Curley" Morrison of the Buckeyes rushed for 113 yards and one touchdown, but a blocked punt set up another Ohio State score before Hague's field goal. The crowd went over 100,000 for the first time to 100,983.

Michigan 14, California 9

Michigan quarterback Charles Ortmann completed 15 of 19 passes for 146 yards and fullback Donald Dufek added 113 on the ground as Michigan scored two touchdowns in the last six minutes to upset California, 14-6. On the Wolverines' go-ahead touchdown drive, Ortmann completed six of eight passes (and had a seventh dropped) for 64 yards.

1952

Illinois 40, Stanford 7

Illinois overcame a 7-6 halftime deficit to score at will late in the game to defeat Stanford, 40-7. The Illini rolled for 444 yards total offense, with Don Tate personally rushing for 150 yards.

Southern California 7, Wisconsin 0

Substitute quarterback Rudy Bukich threw a 22-yard touchdown pass to Al "Hoagy" Carmichael in the third quarter held up for a 7-0 USC triumph over Wisconsin to give the Pacific Coast its first victory over the Big Ten since the two conferences began their agreement in 1947. Jess Hill, Trojan coach who played on the 1929 USC team, became the first man to have played on and coached winning Rose Bowl teams.

1954

Michigan State 28, UCLA 20

Michigan State overcame a 14-0 deficit to explode in the second half for a 28-20 victory over UCLA. A 62-yard touchdown run by Bill Wells in the final period clinched the Spartan victory after UCLA had rallied to pull within one point.

1955

Ohio State 20, Southern California 7

Woody Hayes made his first trek to the Rose Bowl as a coach and his national champion Ohio State team defeated Southern California, 20-7, in the mud and rain. Dave Leggett quarterbacked the Buckeyes to three touchdowns and USC's Aramis Dandoy returned a punt 88 yards for a touchdown. UCLA was PCC champion, but was barred from returning by the conference's "no-repeat" rule.

1956

Michigan State 17, UCLA 14

A 41-yard field goal with seven seconds to play by Dave Kaiser, who had been injured during the season and had not practice field goals for two months, gave Michigan State a narrow 17-14 win over UCLA. To add to the excitement, Kaiser had lost one of his contact lenses and couldn't clearly see the goal posts.

Iowa 35, Oregon State 19

Four Pacific Coast teams — Washington, USC, UCLA and California, were barred from playing in the Rose Bowl because of conference rules infractions. Iowa, which had defeated Oregon State by one point in the first game of the regular season, rode Kenneth Ploen's passing to a 35-19 win.

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

Ohio State 10, Oregon 7

For the third time in 12 years, a Big Ten team won the Rose Bowl with a field goal. Ohio State's Don Sutherin booted a 34-yarder in the fourth quarter to give the heavily favored and national champion Buckeyes a narrow 10-7 triumph. Oregon, coached by Len Casanova, had ironically missed a field goal from the identical spot earlier.

Iowa 38, California 12

Iowa rushed for 441 yards, with Bob Jeter personally contributing 194, to roll over California, 38-12. Hawkeye coach Forest Evashevski, racked with the flu, came out of a sickbed to handle his team.

Washington 44, Wisconsin 8

The end of an era was marked as Washington, coached by Jim Owens, ripped Wisconsin, 44-8. The Big Ten had won 12 of the first 13 Rose Bowl games, but one-eyed Husky quarterback Bob Schloredt led his team to victory by rushing for 81 yards and passing for 102 more. During the year the Pacific Coast Conference had disbanded and reformed as the Athletic Association of Western Universities.

Washington 17, Minnesota 7

Bob Schloredt became the only player in Rose Bowl history to be selected as Player of the Game twice as he quarterbacked fifth-ranked Washington to a 17-7 triumph over first ranked Minnesota. Washington built a 17-0 halftime lead and held on the rest of the way. Gate receipts exceeded one million dollars for the first time.

Minnesota 21, UCLA 3

After Ohio State turned down the Rose Bowl bid (sparking riots on the Columbus campus), Minnesota accepted and methodically defeated UCLA, 21-3. Quarterback Sandy Stephens scored two touchdowns, completed seven of 11 passes, and ran for 46 yards. The Gopher defense, anchored by Bobby Bell, held UCLA to 55 yards.

1963

Southern California 42, Wisconsin 37

John McKay made his debut in the Rose Bowl as USC coach and saw his national champion Trojans outscore Wisconsin, 42-37. USC, with Pete Beathard throwing four touchdown passes, ran up a 42-14 lead. Then Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen got hot, bringing the Badgers to within five points when time ran out. VanderKelen completed 33 of 48 passes for 401 yards, and 11 Rose Bowl records were broken.

Illinois 17, Washington 7

Illinois overpowered Washington, 17-7, as the Huskies lost star quarterback Bill Douglas five minutes into the game with a dislocated knee. Douglas' substitute threw three interceptions and twice fumbled. Jim Grabowski of the Illini rushed for 125 yards and one touchdown.

Michigan 34, Oregon State 7

Mel Anthony scored three touchdowns, one on an 84-yard run for a Rose Bowl record, to lead Michigan past Oregon State, 34-7. Anthony's long sprint and a 43-yard touchdown dash by Carl Ward in the second quarter broke the game open for the Wolverines.

1966

UCLA 14, Michigan State 12

UCLA upset Michigan State, the national champion, 14-12, as Coach Tommy Prothro captured his first Rose Bowl win after twice losing while at Oregon State. Bob Stiles was named Player of the Game after the 170-pounder spun 212-pound Bob Aspia down short of the goal on Michigan State's try for two points following its second touchdown. UCLA quarterback Gary Beban scored both Bruin touchdowns.

Purdue 14, Southern California 13

A two-point conversion attempt by Southern California with less than three minutes remaining was foiled and Purdue emerged a 14-13 victor. After Troy Winslow flipped a 19-yard touchdown pass to Rod Sherman, Boilermaker back George Catavolos intercepted the conversion pass. Perry Williams scored both Purdue touchdowns on short bursts.

1968

Southern California 14, Indiana 3

O.J. Simpson ran for 128 yards and scored both USC touchdowns on short blasts as the Trojans defeated Indiana, 14-3, to wrap up the national football title. Southern Cal started the game without five regulars and lost two more during the game, but had enough depth to prevail.

1969

Ohio State 27, Southern California 16

Rex Kern quarterbacked national champion Ohio State to a 27-16 defeat of Southern California, overcoming a 10-0 deficit and heroics by Trojan O.J. Simpson. Simpson, the Heisman Trophy winner, rushed for 171 yards, including an 80-yard touchdown scamper. But five USC turnovers and Ohio State's power proved too much.

Southern California 10, Michigan 3

A record fourth straight appearance by USC was culminated in a 10-3 victory over Michigan, whose coach Bo Schembechler suffered a heart attack and missed the game. The Trojans' "Wild Bunch" on defense held Michigan to a field goal while a 13-yard pass from Jimmy Jones to Bobby Chandler was the margin of victory.

Stanford 27, Ohio State 17

Stanford, with Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett at quarterback, defeated previously unbeaten Ohio State, 27-17, for Woody Hayes' first Rose Bowl loss. Plunkett completed 20 of 30 passes for 265 yards as Stanford scored twice in the fourth quarter to overcome a 17-13 Buckeye lead. Ohio State's loss gave Nebraska the national championship.

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

Stanford 13, Michigan 12

A 31-yard field goal by Rod Garcia with just 12 seconds to play lifted Stanford to its second straight victory over an undefeated team, this time Michigan, 13-12. An usual safety had given Michigan a 12-10 lead when Stanford drove 57 yards in the closing seconds to set up Garcia's field goal. Don Bunce completed 24 of 44 passes for 290 yards for the Cardinals.

Southern California 42, Ohio State 17

Fullback Sam Cunningham, known primarily for his superb blocking, dived for four touchdowns, a modern era Rose Bowl record, as USC defeated Ohio State, 42-17, to win the national title. USC broke away after a 7-7 halftime tie as Anthony Davis ran for 157 yards and Mike Rae threw for 229, giving the Trojans the national title.

1974

Ohio State 42, Southern California 21

The 1974 game was a reverse of the 1973 contest as Ohio State, held to a 14-14 tie at halftime, exploded in the second half for a 42-21 win over USC. Freshman fullback Pete Johnson scored three touchdowns and Archie Griffin ran for 149 yards. But the Player of the Game was OSU quarterback Cornelius Greene, who completed six of eight passes for 129 yards and scrambled effectively.

Southern California 18, Ohio State 17

Rhodes scholar Pat Haden threw a 38-yard touchdown pass to John McKay, the coach's son, then fired a two-point conversion pass to Shelton Diggs to give USC a narrow 18-17 win over Ohio State and the national title. Haden threw for 181 yards and two touchdowns to offset the loss of Anthony Davis, who suffered a rib injury.

1976

UCLA 23, Ohio State 10

UCLA exploded for 23 second-half points to hand previously undefeated Ohio State a 23-10 defeat. Bruin quarterback John Sciarra hit on 13 of 19 passes for 212 yards and two touchdowns, both to Wally Henry, covering 16 and 67 yards. UCLA running back Wendell Tyler carried 21 times for 177 yards, including a 54-yard fourth-quarter scoring dash that put the game away for the Bruins.

1977

Southern California 14, Michigan 6

After an opening game loss, USC won its 11th-straight game by grinding out a 14-6 win over Michigan. Michigan's Rob Lytle opened the scoring with a 1-yard plunge, but Trojan quarterback Vince Evans got that back with a 1-yard rollout. Freshman tailback Charles White, filling in for the injured Ricky Bell, rushed for 122 yards, including a 7-yard scoring jaunt that closed out the scoring for USC.

Washington 27, Michigan 20

Washington rushed out to a 24-0 lead in the third quarter then had to withstand a furious Michigan charge to hang on for a 27-20 victory. Husky quarterback Warren Moon, the Player of the Game, ran for two touchdowns and tossed a 28-yard pass to Spider Gaines for another to lead Washington. Michigan quarterback Rick Leach passed for 239 yards, including touchdown strikes of 76 and 32 yards.

Southern California 17, Michigan 10

In a tough defensive struggle, the Pac-10 ran its victory string to five in a row as USC outlasted Michigan 17-10. Trojan tailback Charles White rushed for 99 yards and scored what proved to be the decisive touchdown on a disputed 3-yard plunge in the second quarter. Michigan quarterback Rick Leach almost brought the Wolverines back from a 14-point halftime deficit by completing eight of 11 second-half passes, including a 44-yard scoring bomb to Roosevelt Smith. White and Leach shared Player of the Game honors.

Southern California 17, Ohio State 16

USC's Heisman Trophy winning tailback Charles White stole the show as he led the Trojans to a come from behind win in one of the most exciting games in rose Bowl history. White, named Player of the Game for the second straight year, rushed for a Rose Bowl record 247 yards, including a one-yard touchdown dive with 1:32 remaining in the game that gave USC the win. The Trojans jumped out to an early 10-0 lead on an Eric Hipp field goal and a 53-yard scoring bomb from Paul McDonald to Kevin Williams. Ohio State, behind sophomore quarterback Art Schlichter, who passed for 297 yards, came back to take a 16-10 lead in the fourth quarter. Schlichter hit Gary Williams with a 67-yard touchdown pass and Vlade Janakievski booted a record three field goals to account for the Buckeyes' points. Then White took over. With 5:21 remaining in the game, the Trojans took over on their own 17-yard line. USC marched 83 yards in eight plays, all on the ground. On the winning drive, White carried six times for 71 yards, including the game winning dive from a yard out.

Michigan 23, Washington 6

Michigan broke open a close game in the second half to give coach Bo Schembechler his first win in six trips to the Rose Bowl. The Wolverines led by a point, 7-6, at halftime, then took control in the second half to win going away and snap the Pac-10's six-game win streak. Michigan tailback Butch Woolfolk earned Player of the Game honors for pounding for 182 yards and one touchdown in 26 carries. Wide receiver Anthony Carter, shut out in the first half, pulled in five passes for 68 yards and a touchdown in the second. The Wolverine defense allowed only two field goals by the Huskies, extending to 22 quarters its string of not allowing a touchdown. Michigan punter Don Bracken kept Washington in the hole averaging 47.3 yards on six punts, including a Rose Bowl record 73-yarder.

THE ROSE BOWL THROUGH THE YEARS

Washington 28, Iowa 0

Iowa made its first appearance in the Rose Bowl in 23 years but was humbled, 28-0, by Washington. It marked the first Rose Bowl shutout in 29 years. Husky tailback Jacque Robinson became the first freshman to ever win Player of the Game honors as he slashed for 142 yards and two touchdowns on 20 carries. Sophomore quarterback Steve Pelluer guided the Washington attack in completing 15 of 29 passes for 142 yards. All four Husky touchdowns came on the ground. Washington took a 13-0 halftime lead on one-yard plunges by Robinson and Vince Coby, and put the game out of reach in the fourth period on a 34-yard scoring run by Robinson and a three-yard run by Tim Cowan. The Husky defense intercepted three Iowa passes and the Hawkeyes deepest penetration of the game was the UW 29-yard line.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

Academically, Michigan ranks among the foremost universities in America. A survey of professional school deans not long ago rated U-M in the top 10 in 13 of the 18 professional areas surveyed, "the best overall record" in the words of The Los Angeles Times. The survey found "Five universities with outstanding reputations — Berkeley, Chicago, Columbia, Harvard and Michigan — have the greatest numbers of top-ranking professional schools."

Other recent surveys have found the following: 4,000 faculty members nationally ranked U-M among the top four universities; the College of Engineering was first for graduate level academics in three of seven fields surveyed; deans of business administration schools placed the employment value of a U-M M.B.A. degree among the top five and rated Michigan's executive programs among the top four; more top business executives earned degrees from U-M than from any other public college or university; and medical school faculty members ranked U-M among the top eight such schools.

U-M students appreciate this, evidently. The majority of students in 554 classes recently rated 90 percent of their courses as "excellent." Ninety percent of the classes rated the instructor as an excellent teacher. The U-M faculty survey noted the results are quite different from the stereotype of the large, "mass education" university one hears about.

Michigan's schools and colleges cover the spectrum of human knowledge. To them for an education have come more than 268,000 degree holders, including the three-man crew of Apollo 15. Last year 26 percent of the student body came from all the other states in the nation, while another 6.3 percent were from some 100 other countries.

During 1980-81 sponsored research volume at Michigan totaled $129,530,736. Projects ranged from abstract theoretical studies of the atom to methods of reducing the number and severity of highway accidents. The monthly survey of consumer sentiment is a nationally respected barometer of the nation's economic health. Practical holography of three-dimensional photography was invented at Michigan, while the scholarly renowned Middle English Dictionary is being compiled on the campus.

On the North Campus, the Phoenix Project has for three decades sought peaceful uses of atomic energy. A few hundred feet away, the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Library houses the papers of one of Michigan's most famous alumni.

The Medical Center's 25 buildings comprise one of the largest concentrations of health care facilities in the world. The area includes one of the nation's major medical schools, the largest baccalaureate school of nursing, and the nation's first University Hospital.

Michigan's faculty includes 14 members of the National Academy of Sciences and many presidents of national scholarly organizations. The U-M library system is the fifth largest university system in the country, with more than five million volumes.

The University is truly a state resource and a national asset.

HAROLD T. SHAPIRO
PRESIDENT

Harold T. Shapiro became the University of Michigan's tenth president on January 1, 1980. A professor of economics and public policy at Michigan, he is one of the nation's ablest young economists. He is known for his research and writing in economic forecasting, public policy analysis, and econometrics.

With Economics Department Chairman Saul H. Hymans, Shapiro for the past decade has directed the Research Seminar in Quantitative Economics, which produces highly respected forecasts of national and regional economic activity.

Shapiro has established a reputation as one of U-M's best classroom teachers since joining the faculty in 1964. He was a member of the University Budget Priorities Committee (1972-74) before chairing it until 1977. He also chaired the Department of Economics from 1974 to 1977. From then through 1979 he was vice-president for academic affairs and chairman of the U-M Budget Administration Committee.

For years he has had important connections with econometric model builders and forecasters throughout North America and Eastern and Western Europe. Over the last decade he has served as an economic advisor and consultant to key economic agencies of the U.S. and Canadian governments and the state of Michigan.

He has been senior research associate of the Brookings Institution, research advisor of the Bank of Canada, consultant to the U.S. Treasury, research consultant to the Economic Council of Canada, and a member of the Council of the American Statistical Association.

His bachelor's degree was earned at McGill University. M.A. and Ph.D. degrees followed at Princeton University.

Shapiro was a member of the high school swim and water polo teams and played hockey and basketball through those years in Montreal, his birthplace. President and Mrs. Shapiro and their four daughters are now American citizens.

DON CANHAM

Athletic Director

Don Canham, one of this nation's most renowned athletic administrators, continues to keep Michigan's program at the forefront of collegiate athletics. Innovation and creativity have been at the heart of his extremely successful fourteen year administration.

When Canham was named the fifth athletic director in Michigan history in 1968, he launched a major direct mail and advertising program to sell football tickets, but he also established a series of fund-raising clubs, organized parking and concessions and developed a line of specialty items (souvenirs) . . . all of which became major sources of revenue.

Meanwhile, Canham has supervised a competitive athletic program that in 14 seasons has won 51 Big Ten championships (Michigan's total is a conference record 219). Additionally, Michigan has broken numerous NCAA attendance records over the last five years.

Michigan's intercollegiate program includes 21 varsity sports for men and women with an annual budget in excess of $11 million. The department is self-sufficient.

Despite the eroding effects of inflation, Canham continues to expand and improve Michigan's impressive physical plant.

During the last decade Canham has earmarked more than $7 million for plant expansion and improvements. Additionally, he was a key mover in the $7.2 million construction of new recreational sports facilities that gave Michigan one of the largest indoor complexes in the nation, some 333,000 square feet.

Other projects completed in the last decade include: construction of a Sports Service Building, the Indoor Track/Tennis Building which is used for varsity and university recreational purposes; remodeling of Yost Fieldhouse into an 8,100-seat ice arena; construction of an all-weather outdoor track; construction of an artificial surface practice field with lights; improvements on the baseball stadium; a continuing renovation program for Michigan Stadium; and the construction of a new fieldhouse which contains an entire artificial surface football field, the only one of its kind in the nation. A new weight room and training facility for women athletics was also completed last spring.

Nationally, Canham serves on various Big Ten and NCAA committees. He is invited by other universities and business groups to speak on promotion and administration. He has been elected to the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame and the U.S. Track and Field Federation Hall of Fame. He has developed the first National Sports Promotion and Marketing Clinic.

Canham was Michigan's track captain and NCAA high jump champion during his undergraduate years. He served in the Army Air Force, coached and taught at Kankakee, Ill. High School, was an assistant track coach at Michigan for two years before being named head coach in 1948. His Wolverine teams won 12 Big Ten titles in 19 years. During this time he built a highly successful sports equipment business that was placed in trust upon his appointment as athletic director.

BO SCHEMBECHLER

Head Coach

Glenn E. "Bo" Schembechler, the dean of Big Ten coaches, has earned the right to be called one of college football's all-time great coaches. He smiles in a very humble way when he is described in that manner, and he would be the first to tell you that he isn't the reason for the high level of success that the Michigan football program has achieved. He would speak in glowing terms of his coaching staff and of the fine student-athletes he has had the opportunity to coach. That's the type of man he is. His loyalty to the University of Michigan and the outstanding football program he has, had a huge hand in forming what was dramatically proven last January when he turned down the richest contract in the history of college athletics, as offered by Texas A&M. His loyalty to Michigan, is matched only by the success he has achieved at the Ann Arbor campus. One can't deny that he has been the major reason for the success of the Michigan football program in the last thirteen seasons. The following achievements only have to be listed to see that this is indeed one of the very finest coaches in the nation.

- ★ He has a career won-lost record at Michigan of 131-27-3, a sparkling .823 percentage. Including his six year tenure as coach at Miami of Ohio (1963-68), he has an overall record of 171-44-6 in 19 years as head coach, a figure that ranks third among all active coaches.
- ★ He has never had one losing season in 19 years as a head coach. Only twice (1967 at Miami and 1979 at Michigan) has he suffered more than three setbacks in a given year.
- ★ Eight of his thirteen teams at Michigan have won ten or more games in a season.
- ★ Twelve of his thirteen teams at Michigan have been ranked in the Top Ten in the final wire service polls (AP and/or UPI).
- ★ Nine of his thirteen teams have either won or tied for the Big Ten championship.
- ★ Nine of his thirteen Wolverine units have gone to bowl games. Six Rose Bowl appearances and trips to the Orange Bowl, Gator Bowl and Bluebonnet Bowl are among his achievements. Michigan has appeared in a bowl game each of the last seven years.
- ★ During the 1970s his regular season record of 96-10-3 was the finest in the nation.
- ★ He has a sparkling .888% winning record against Big Ten opponents.

- ★ He was named national Coach of the Year in 1969 as well as Mid-American Coach of the Year in 1965 and Big Ten Coach of the Year in 1972 and 1980.
- ★ During the 1970s, his teams were ranked eighth or higher in seven national statistical categories including first in won-lost record (96-10-3), first in rushing defense (106.6), first in total defense (226.3) and first in scoring defense (8.04).
- ★ Twenty-nine different Michigan players have achieved first-team All-American honors under Schembechler.
- ★ At least one Wolverine player per season has achieved first-team All-American status in each of his thirteen years at Michigan.
- ★ Sixty-nine different players have earned first-team All-Big Ten honors at Michigan during his coaching reign.
- ★ His 131 career wins at Michigan make him the second winningest all-time coach in school history, next to Fielding Yost's 165 victories.

Schembechler was a prep football all-stater at Barberton (Ohio) High School. He continued his football career at Miami of Ohio where he was an offensive tackle for three seasons. He played under George Blackburn and Woody Hayes. He was also a fine lefthander for the Miami baseball team.

He graduated in 1951 and received a master's degree in 1952 at Ohio State where he served as a graduate assistant coach. After serving in the U.S. Army, he was a line coach at Presbyterian College in 1954, a line coach at Bowling Green in 1955, then joined Ara Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1958 before serving for the next five seasons as an assistant at Ohio State. He was appointed head football coach at Miami of Ohio in 1963, a position he held until taking over the Michigan program prior to the 1969 campaign.

JERRY HANLON

Quarterback Coach

Jerry Hanlon, the senior staff member, assumed a new role as Michigan's quarterback coach this past June after serving for the previous 13 years as the Wolverine's offensive line coach, a duty for which he attained national recognition. Hanlon, from North Bend, Ohio, was an offensive halfback during the 1953-55 seasons at Miami. He played halfback on the Redskin teams that won two Mid-American Conference titles. His college coach was Ara Parseghian.

As a player, Hanlon's college teams achieved a 24-2-1 record, while his teams at Taylor High School were 25-1-1.

Following graduation from Miami, Hanlon returned to Taylor for a year as assistant football coach, then coached at Canton Catholic, Youngstown and Cleveland St. Edwards before joining the staff at the University of Dayton in 1964. The following year he joined Schembechler at Miami of Ohio.

He had been in charge of Michigan's offensive line since 1969. Those lines have keyed an assault on most team rushing records. Eleven first-team All-American linemen have been developed under Hanlon at Michigan. Thirty-two of his Michigan players have been drafted by NFL teams, including four in the first-round.

Hanlon is married to the former Anne Hatfield, a native Norma, Tennessee. The couple has two sons, Scott and Mickey (a wide receiver with the Wolverines), and a daughter, Kelly Ann.

Paul Schudel

Offensive Interior Line

Paul Schudel, a former player and graduate assistant at Miami of Ohio under Bo Schembechler, rejoined his former boss in 1975 as a member of the Michigan football staff.

Schudel developed two first-team All-American linemen in 1977, center Walt Downing and guard Mark Donahue, who repeated his '76 selection. Center George Lilja joined that list in 1980 and guard Kurt Becker last fall.

Schudel served as offensive line coach at Syracuse during 1974 for former Michigan assistant Frank Maloney. Prior to that, Schudel spent two years as offensive line coach and offensive coordinator at William and Mary, two years as offensive coach at Colorado State, two years in the same duties at New Hampshire and two years as a graduate assistant at Miami.

Schudel graduated from Swanton (Ohio) High in 1962 after earning 11 letters. He played three years as offensive tackle for Schembechler at Miami and was tri-captain his senior year and earned Academic All-American honors. Schudel graduated in 1966 with a Bachelor of Science Degree with a major in mathematics and received his masters degree in education from Miami in 1968.

Uzelac was named Mid-American Conference Coach of the Year in 1976.

Burton was an outstanding halfback at Miami, twice being named All-Mid-American Conference. He averaged 8.8 yards per carry and scored 84 points his senior year, both records. Burton also starred in track. He was elected to Miami's Sports Hall of Fame for both football and track.

Burton graduated from Miami in 1956, played a year of pro ball with the Ottawa Rough Riders, then taught and coached in Cincinnati on the junior and senior high levels for nine years. 1982 GAME SUMMARIES

GAME 1 — September 11, Ann Arbor, MI

Michigan 20, Wisconsin 9

Att: 104,932

Wisconsin	9	0	0	0	—	9
Michigan	7	6	0	7	—	20

On a sweltering Saturday afternoon, Michigan started off the 1982 season by gaining its revenge against last year's Big Ten surprise Wisconsin — but just barely. A year ago the Badgers entertained #1 ranked Michigan and dashed the Wolverines hopes for a national title, winning 21-14.

This time around Michigan jumped out to a quick 7-0 lead on a four-yard run by tailback Larry Ricks. Wisconsin, not to be outdone, picked up the next two scores, a Mark Down 32-yard field goal and a one-yard TD run by Randy Wright to close out the first quarter scoring. Michigan added a touchdown before the end of the half as a long drive, consisting mainly of Rick Rogers and Steve Smith carrying the ball, culminated in a Roger's TD dive from two-yards out. The two-pointer failed but 'M' held the lead, 13-9.

The second half saw deep penetrations by each team but only one score. With 8:28 remaining, Smith rolled left and broke over tackle for a six-yard TD.

Ricks, who replaced graduated All-American Butch Woolfolk at tailback, had quite a day for Michigan totaling 153 yards on 24 carries. While Wisconsin was hurt by eight penalties that set the Badgers back 81 yards. Smith went 12 for 19 but had two aerials intercepted.

Michigan	0	0	7	10 - 17
Notre Dame	3	10	10	0 - 23

Notre Dame put up the first three scores of the game, two field goals by placekicker Mike Johnston and a Larry Moriarty 24-yard scamper around left end, to make the score 13-0 at halftime. Wolverine two-time All-American Anthony Carter scored on a dazzling 72-yard punt return in the third quarter to cut ND's lead to 13-7. After two more Irish scores, however, Notre Dame jumped ahead, 23-7.

The final quarter featured one of the most incredible TD receptions in Michigan history. After Ali Haji-Sheikh's three-pointer from 42 yards pulled the Wolverines to within two touchdowns, quarterback Steve Smith lofted a pass to Steve Johnson. A crushing blow by the ND secondary jarred the ball free and, as it bounced off the Irish defender's shoulder, 'M' tailback Rick Rogers grabbed the loose ball and raced 39 yards for the score. The touchdown pulled Michigan to within six points with 7:30 left to play. On the Blue's last scoring attempt, however, Irishman Dave Duerson stole the ball after a Vince Bean reception at the ND 30 yardline and the Wolverines' fate was sealed.

Michigan opened the game with three quick touchdowns to take a 21-0 lead in what looked to be a traditional 'M' runaway. The Wolverines looked unstoppable as Larry Ricks scored from nine yards out, Steve Smith tallied on a six-yard option run and Anthony Carter snagged a five yard TD pass.

Late in the second quarter, however, the UCLA offense shifted into high gear. The Bruins, behind the arm of quarterback Tom Ramsey, staged a magnificent comeback to outscore Michigan 31-6 in the remaining 35 minutes.

Ramsey, who finished the day with 311 yard passing, threw for two touchdowns of 46 and six yards while also scoring on a one-yard run. The Wolverines retaliated with two Ali Haji-Sheikh field goal kicks of 47 and 48 yards to regain the lead.

UCLA, though claimed the victory when Kevin Nelson crossed the goalline from two yards out and John Lee booted a 26-yard field goal.

The Michigan-Indiana game once again pitted the Wolverine defense against another outstanding passing offense in Hoosier quarterback Babe Laufenberg and his game-breaking receiver Duane Gunn.

The Blue defense held the duo to just four completions, however, while the Wolverine ground attack dominated the game. Michigan rushed for 334 net yards with most being picked up by Larry Ricks who ran for 124 yards.

Ali Haji-Sheikh led off the scoring in the first quarter with a 50 yard field goal, the longest of his career. Steve Smith added a TD in the second period on a twisting 37-yard jaunt through the Hoosier defense and a Dan Rice plunge from the one gave Michigan a 17-0 lead.

Indiana came back on a 20-yard Doug Smith field goal and a eight-yard Laufenberg to Gunn TD pass to move within a touchdown.

On the ensuing series, however, Michigan drove 75 yards with Ricks scoring on a 24-yard scamper to seal the win.

Hopes were high for a thriller between Michigan and arch-rival Michigan State. A win was needed by both squads. Michigan was an unimpressive 2-2 and MSU came in 0-4. It wasn't to be. Michigan thorough dismantled Michigan State's highly touted defense picking up 456 yards, 274 on the ground and 182 behind the arm of Steve Smith.

Michigan came away with the first three scores, all touchdowns, commencing with Smith's two-yard rush in the first quarter. Second period action saw Lawrence Ricks score on a 7-yard run, tight-end Craig Dunaway snag a 7-yard pass from Smith, and Ali Haji-Sheikh added the point after to put 'M' up 21-0. Michigan State's Ralf Mojsiejenko made it 21-3 at halftime as he banged a 31-yarder home.

In the third period, Michigan tacked on 10 more points. Haji-Sheikh hit a 27-yard field goal and Anthony Carter hauled in a 14-yard aerial for a score to break the Big Ten record of 34 career touchdowns through the air.

Michigan flew into Iowa City to meet last year's Big Ten Rose Bowl representative. The last encounter, a 9-7 Iowa win, was dominated by Iowa's defense, but this time it was Michigan's defense that determined the outcome.

The first major play of the game came in the second period when the Wolverine defense put up a goal line stand to be remembered. From inside the one Iowa ran two straight dives to no avail and ended up turning the ball over. Leading the stand were Michigan's Jerry Burgei, Winfred Carraway, Mike Hammerstein, Paul Girgash, and Mike Boren. A series later the defense again rose to the occasion. On fourth down Carlton Rose swept in and blocked Reggie Roby's punt which bounded out of the endzone for a safety. Michigan added 10 more points before the end of the half to lead 12-0.

Second half action saw Ali Haji-Sheikh boot a 26-yard field goal and Rick Rogers add two touchdowns on runs of five and one to push the tally to 29-0. Iowa put seven points on the board with 2:24 remaining. With the victory and Ohio State's win over Illinois, Michigan's 4-0 record was at the top of the Big Ten.

The Northwestern Wildcats' euphoria which followed their two early season wins this year, home field advantage, and 436 passing yards by NCAA record breaking freshman Sandy Schwab weren't enough to stop the steamrolling Wolverines. Michigan played superb ball through the first half and with the game in hand played reserves the rest of the way to gain some game experience.

Northwestern started the contest off driving to the 'M' 12, but Schwab miscalculated and Keith Bostic picked off his errant throw. Michigan then held the Wildcats in check until the fourth quarter while scoring 49 points. Lawrence Ricks scored from one yard away to begin the point parade. In the second quarter, Steve Smith garnered two TDs and Anthony Carter went over the goal line twice, on 34 and 29 yard receptions. Craig Dunaway's 12-yard TD grab was the last score of the half.

Bostic put Michigan up 49-0 early in the third with an interception of a Schwab pass which he returned 54 yards for a score.

Michigan came back to Ann Arbor expecting a dogfight from the Gophers, but it was Michigan's offense, which again scored at will on it's opposition, that decided the game. The Wolverines rolled up 566 total yards, 349 of them coming on the ground. Lawrence Ricks earned 135 yards on 18 carries and junior Kerry Smith slashed for 113 yards in 11 attempts to lead the way. Michigan scored on five of it's first six possessions beginning with a 29-yard reception by Anthony Carter. After a fruitless second series, Michigan's Steve Smith ran an option six yards, Dan Rice caught a single-yard pass, and Rick Rogers burst in the endzone from 10 yards away for three more 'M' scores. Minnesota got on the scoreboard at this point as Mike Hohensee threw a 13-yard TD pass, but Michigan added a field goal as the clock ran out.

Illinois was looking at first down and goal to go from the 5-yard line, with only a minute left to play. Michigan's defense, as they had done all day long, bent but failed to break. On the first two downs, Tony Eason's passes were dropped, and on third down, Eason connected for three yards. The fatal fourth down call was for a run up the middle, but when Dwight Beverly came to the line, Carlton Rose and the rest of the Michigan defense was there to crush the Illini's hopes.

Illinois' Mike Bass gave the home team the early lead with a 26-yard field goal, but Michigan came back quickly with a Steve Smith to Anthony Carter connection good for a 40-yard touchdown. Carter took the ball on a simple post pattern on the left side, used a great downfield block by Vince Bean and zipped across the field and up the right sideline for the score. Second period action again saw an exchange of scores as Ali Haji-Sheikh booted a 30-yarder for Michigan and Illinois' Eason found Mike Martin for a 7-yard touchdown pass to force a 10-10 halftime tie.

The last and tie-breaking points came in the third stanza when Michigan's ever valuable kicker, Haji-Sheikh, connected for field goals from 45 and 47 yards away. Both teams racked up plenty of yardage, but most of them came between the 20 yard lines.

Michigan, needing but one win in the final two contests to wrap up the Big Ten Championship and a Pasadena berth, wanted to do it in Michigan Stadium in a CBS-covered Purdue matchup. It turned out to be a gala last home game for the seniors of '83. Early Boilermaker fumbles gave Michigan the chance to bury their opponents and the Wolverines succeeded. Scores in the first half included a Steve Smith to Anthony Carter pass for 48 yards, Lawrence Ricks powering in from the 4-yard line, a 26-yard field goal from Ali Haji-Sheikh, and runs of a single yard by Ricks and Smith. The score at the half was 31-7. Second half play consisted of Michigan tacking up three fourth quarter TDs and Purdue two. For the Wolverines, Kerry Smith and Eddie Garrett had touchdown runs of 1 and 6 yards, respectively, and Carter finished off his last performance in front of the Ann Arbor crowd with a grab of a tipped Smith pass which he juggled, hauled in, and high-stepped in with for a 62-yard score. Purdue's points came on Scott Campbell throws of 4 and 12 yards and the final was 52-21.

GAME 11 — November 20, Columbus, OH Ohio State 24, Michigan 14

Alt: 90.252

Michigan	7	0	7	0	—	14
Ohio State	0	14	0	10	—	24

The Wolverines traveled to Columbus carrying their conference crown to meet second place Ohio State (6-1), who even with a win couldn't share the honor because of playing one less Big Ten game. That, however, didn't slow down the intensity. Michigan notched the first points with Lawrence Ricks going over from a yard away early in the first half, but the Wolverines were thwarted time and again after that, mainly on account of their six turnovers. In fact, the Wolverines scored only once more, that coming on a Steve Smith four-yard carry for the TD. OSU used runs by Vaughn Broadnax 6 yards, and tailback Tim Spencer, 2 yards and a single yard, to total up a 21-14 lead in the fourth period. They added a 33-yard field goal by Rich Spangler to close out the scoring. Michigan's miscues cost them the chance to even get in the contest.

Some sidelights of the traditional Michigan-Ohio State game were Tim Spencer's winning the Big Ten rushing title over Michigan's Ricks, 129.3 to 128.3, (Ricks had gone into the game with a .6 of a yard lead), and the fact that this year's game was the first one since 1971 that didn't decide who was to win the championship and the trip to the Rose Bowl.

UCLA

UCLA occupies an unusual position among the nation's large universities; it is one of a tiny handful known both for top academic leadership and championship athletics.

Two historic decisions played a critical part in UCLA's growth to its present distinction. The first was the vote of the state legislature in 1919 to allow the Los Angeles State Normal School to become part of the University of California, the second was the decision to move UCLA's campus in 1929 from a small plot on Vermont Avenue to the new home in Westwood Village.

Affiliation with the University of California gave the fledgling university the academic prestige it needed to attract outstanding faculty and students; the move to Westwood gave it a handsome setting and room for expansion into a major institution. The fact that the campus lay in the path of growth of the nation's most vigorous metropolis undoubtedly made an important contribution.

From a provincial undergraduate institution in the '20s, UCLA has developed into a major research university with the eighth largest graduate enrollment among U.S. state universities.

UCLA's various professional schools, though relatively young, have also reached national prominence. One 1977 survey found the UCLA Law School in 10th position, Graduate Education in 4th, and Management in 8th; another, in 1979, listed UCLA Medicine in 5th place in the U.S.

UCLA's faculty rolls, which have listed Nobelists and numerous members of the National Academy of Sciences, contain many nationally-known authorities. UCLA faculty are always represented, often in considerable numbers, among the winners of Guggenheim awards and Fulbright and Sloan fellowships.

In support of faculty and student research, UCLA has developed many unusual educational facilities, including a library of some 4,500,000 volumes recently ranked 4th in the nation by the Association of Research Libraries. Another important research tool is the new IBM 3033 computer, one of the most advanced in U.S. universities, which processes 700,000 jobs each year.

In science, the university has such special facilities as a linear accelerator, a laboratory for research into nuclear fusion which may some day provide unlimited sources of energy, a carbon-dating laboratory which determines the age of ancient objects, and a tissue-typing laboratory which matches donors and recipients of organ transplants all over the world.

No less impressive are the facilities in the arts, which include the extensive ethnic art collection of the Museum of Cultural History and the more than 400 exotic musical instruments of the department of music. Still other unusual collections embrace the more than 60 major examples of contemporary sculpture in the Franklin Murphy Sculpture Garden and the more than 25,000 prints in the Grunwald Center for the Graphic Arts.

It is perhaps not surprising that UCLA's strong faculty and excellent facilities have attracted a large volume of research grants, not only from private sources but from the government. In federal grants for research and development, UCLA ranked 6th in the nation in 1980.

DR. CHARLES E. YOUNG

Chancellor

When Dr. Charles E. Young became chancellor of UCLA in 1968, he was 36, the youngest man to head one of the University of California's nine campuses.

Today, at 50, he has been in office longer than any other UC chancellor except one and has compiled a record of solid achievement in the post.

An energetic administrator, he has guided UCLA successfully through difficult periods of student unrest and reduced budgets, providing vigorous leadership in the effort to add to the university's academic distinction through endowed chairs and other outside financial support.

Chancellor Young attended high school and junior college in his native San Bernardino before serving in the U.S. Air Force in the Korean War. Returning from Japan as a sergeant he reentered civilian life and married his childhood sweetheart Sue Daugherty. He and Mrs. Young are the parents of two grown children, Charles, Jr., and Elizabeth Susan Schlossmann. To complete his college education, Dr. Young enrolled in the newly-opened U.C. Riverside and became its first student body president in 1955.

For his graduate work he moved to UCLA, where he earned the M.A. (1957) and the Ph.D. (1960), both in political science.

After a year in Washington D.C., on a Congressional Fellowship, he returned to California in 1959 to join the staff of UC President Clark Kerr.

For about a year he served as staff assistant to the academic team drawing up the Master Plan for Higher Education in California and worked on the University Growth Plan. He also taught political science on the Davis campus of the University in the spring of 1960.

When Dr. Franklin D. Murphy became UCLA chancellor in 1960, he chose as his assistant the young man-on-the-go. In 1963 Dr. Young was appointed a vice chancellor, with responsibilities for administrative, budgetary and student problems.

Five years later, in 1968, Dr. Murphy resigned to become chief executive officer of the Times-Mirror Company, and the Regents turned to Dr. Young to lead the campus which he had served with energy and perception.

Chancellor Young's interest in top performance extends beyond purely academic concerns to other fields, including athletics, and he has been quoted as saying, "excellence in the classroom and in the laboratory are compatible with excellence on the playing field and in the gymnasium."

In addition to his membership on the boards of numerous academic organizations, he has been active in the concerns of the NCAA and is a member of the board of directors of the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee.

ROBERT A. FISCHER

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

It hasn't taken Robert A. (Bob) Fischer very long to establish himself as one of the most successful athletic directors in the nation. His leadership has kept UCLA at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics.

Last year, UCLA won three NCAA men's team championships and placed among the nation's top six schools in five other sports, giving UCLA an incredible total of eight top-six finishes. In 1980-81, Fischer's first as AD, the Bruins won one title and placed fifth or better in five other sports.

In 1981-82, UCLA increased its championship total to 42 by winning titles in swimming, volleyball and tennis. In addition, the Bruins also finished second in gymnastics, fifth in track and field and cross country and sixth in golf and water polo. This year's appearance in the Rose Bowl is the football program's second post-season game during Fischer's era and last year the basketball team won at least 20 games for the 16th consecutive season.

Away from the playing field, Fischer oversees the entire operation of UCLA's powerful athletic program and works with his associate and assistant directors to insure the high-quality program Bruin fans expect. In addition, he interacts with other members of the campus community on important affairs, such as the soon-to-be-completed John R. Wooden Sports and Recreation Center and the MAC-B (athletic department headquarters) renovation project. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the UCLA Foundation.

Fischer, a native of San Francisco, was appointed to his current position in early May of 1980, effective July 1. He succeeded his longtime friend, the late J.D. Morgan, who retired from the position on October 29, 1979 due to health reasons. At the time, Fischer was named acting athletic director.

The University's choice to take over the reins of the department after a nationwide search, Fischer spent 16 years as Morgan's number one assistant. He joined the Bruin athletic department in September, 1964, as assistant director, became associate director in August, 1978, and was appointed acting director in October of 1980.

A member of the National Athletic Collegiate Directors Association, Fischer represents UCLA at all NACDA conventions, as well as at NCAA conventions and Pacific-10 Conference meetings.

TERRY DONAHUE UCLA HEAD COACH

The football career of Terrence Michael Donahue has been a pyramid of success. Progressing from Rose Bowl standout in 1966 to University of Kansas assistant coach to UCLA line coach to head coach at UCLA in 1976, Donahue has established himself as one of the country's most diligent and successful college football mentors.

His outstanding 54-22-4 record during his first seven years has made him one of the most successful coaches in UCLA history. His many career achievements include:

- Being the only man in history to appear in the Rose Bowl as a UCLA player, assistant coach and head coach.
- 54 victories in his first seven years at UCLA. No other Bruin coach has won more games in a similar time span.
- Four bowl appearances in seven seasons, more than any UCLA coach.
- An average of 7.7 victories per season, the best average of any coach in UCLA history.
- A .700 winning percentage, second highest among Bruin coaches with at least three years of service. Only the legendary Red Sanders (.722) ranks ahead of Donahue in this category.
- Three nine-victory seasons, an accomplishment no other UCLA coach can claim.
- A 31-27 victory over Michigan earlier this season. He is the only Bruin coach in history to defeat the Wolverines.
- A 35-14-2 Pacific-10 Conference record, one first-place and four second-place finishes in the league. His .706 winning percentage in conference play is second only to Sanders among coaches with three or more years of experience at UCLA.

In addition to his many victories on the playing field, Donahue also has had great success in other areas of the job. He is always in tremendous demand as a banquet speaker and has a pleasant, easy-going manner with the media.

Donahue's success on the recruiting trail is evidenced by the signing of no less than 43 prep All-Americans, including four who signed professional baseball contracts and never reached UCLA. His 1977 class was judged best in the nation and in the past two years, UCLA has had 23 players drafted or signed as free agents by the NFL.

Donahue's association with UCLA began in 1964 when he made the Bruin varsity as non-scholarship player. After a redshirt year, he earned a starting job as a defensive tackle and helped UCLA to a two-year record of 17-3-1. Donahue climaxed his junior year by playing the Rose Bowl as UCLA upset unbeaten Michigan State on Jan. 1, 1966.

Following his graduation from UCLA, Donahue landed his first coaching job on the staff of former Bruin assistant Pepper Rodgers at the University of Kansas. Four years later, Donahue returned to his alma mater when Rodgers was named the Bruin head coach and he has been there ever since.

During his five years as an offensive line coach, the Bruins enjoyed tremendous success. Under Rodgers, UCLA set numerous offensive records that still stand with the wishbone offense. During Dick Vermeil's two-year reign, UCLA continued its success with the veer offense, one which Donahue helped the head coach install.

Donahue's last game as an assistant coach was on Jan. 1, 1976 when the Bruins upset unbeaten Ohio State in the Rose Bowl. Less than six weeks later, Vermeil signed a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the NFL and Donahue became the new Bruin coach.

In his first year he led the Bruins to a 9-2-1 record, a Liberty Bowl berth and a No. 2 national ranking at one point in the season.

The following year, the Bruins just missed a Rose Bowl bid when they lost their season finale on a field goal in the game's final seconds.

In 1978 the Bruins again earned a bowl bid with an 8-3 regular-season record and tied Arkansas, 10-10, in the Fiesta Bowl.

In the 1979 season was not a good one for the Bruins but they rebounded with a great year in 1980. UCLA won nine games for the second time under Donahue and was, at one point, again ranked second in the entire nation on both wire service polls.

In 1981, the Bruins once again barely missed a Rose Bowl berth, playing instead in the Bluebonnet Bowl. This season, fueled by an air attack that set bushels of school records, Donahue led the Bruins into the Rose Bowl as well as the wire service top tens.

During his seven seasons, Donahue has helped develop 11 first team All-America selections, including three-time choices Kenny Easley and Jerry Robinson and one-timers Freeman McNeil, Oscar Edwards, Jeff Dankworth, Luis Sharpe and Tim Wrightman.

Donahue and his wife Andrea, whom he met and married while an assistant at Kansas, are the proud parents of three daughters — Nicole Denise, 10, Michele Lynn, 7, and Jennifer Erin, 3.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Norm Andersen Assistant Coach

In the span of a few months, Norm Andersen went from part-time assistant coach to full-time status, from coaching a position he had played as collegian to handling one that he'd only been remotely associated with heretofore. But obviously head coach Terry Donahue had the utmost confidence in Norm when he promoted him from tutoring wide receivers to running backs and Andersen proved that confidence was deserved.

There may have been no better part-time aide in the nation than Andersen. One need only check the improvement of UCLA's wide receivers to see the impact he made on the Bruin program. The job was a natural for Norm, still one of UCLA's top-ranking pass receivers.

Andersen served as a volunteer coach in 1978 and became a part-time assistant in 1979. That season Jojo Townsell averaged 22 yards per reception and caught six passes for touchdowns. In 1980 Cormac Carney pulled down 33 passes, the most by a Bruin in a decade. Last season Carney again led UCLA in pass receptions — 29 with 5 for TDs — while Townsell caught 26 with a pair of scores. And their backups, Ricky Coffman and Willie Curran, were both in pro training camps this summer.

Andersen, 29, was a three-year starter while at UCLA (1973-75) and led the team in receptions twice (1973-74). He climaxed his career by playing in the 1976 Rose Bowl and was the team's second-leading pass catcher during that 1975 campaign.

Norm pulled in a total of 61 passes for 1,051 yards and a 17.2-yard average. His 61 catches still rank sixth on the Bruins' career list. An All-Pacific-8 Conference first-team selection in 1974, Andersen was chosen on the 11th round of the 1976 National Football League draft by the Chicago Bears.

Bob Field Co-Defensive Coordinator

Now completing his fourth season at UCLA, Bob Field's chief occupation seems to be the reconstruction of the outside linebacking corps. He was saddled with that chore during his first Westwood tour in 1979, and again upon his return in 1981.

In 1979, early-season injuries sidelined starters Brad Plemmons and Glenn Windom and forced Field to go with untested juniors Larry Hall and Scott Stauch. Field was such a good teacher that Plemmons and Windom were unable to win back their jobs the next season.

Bob left the coaching ranks after the 1979 season to enter private business, but when his replacement departed after the 1980 campaign, Field reapplied and was rehired. Windom and untested senior Ike Gordon started the season at the outside spots, but when Windom saw his career end with a third knee injury, Plemmons came on to finish off his college days in grand style. Through another injury-plagued season, Field was able to develop some depth in the persons of redshirt sophomore Doug West and freshman Neal Dellocono, who along with seniors Eugene Leoni and Rex Gray, have been the main participants at OLB this year.

In addition to his regular coaching duties this season, Bob has served as co-defensive coordinator with secondary coach Tom Hayes.

Prior to coming to UCLA in 1978, Field was a member of the Mississippi State University coaching staff. In 1977, in addition to his other duties, he served as the Bulldog assistant head coach.

In all, Field spent five seasons at Mississippi State coaching the defensive backs. He did double duty by also serving as defensive coordinator.

Field, 34, gained valuable experience during his collegiate playing career at Arkansas. He was a three-year (1968-70) letterman for Frank Broyles and became a regular in the defensive backfield midway through his sophomore season. In his three years on the varsity, the Razorbacks compiled a record of 28-5, including a Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia.

An outstanding high school athlete at Farwell (Tex.) High School, Field earned four letters in football, three in basketball and two in track.

Tom Hayes Co-Defensive Coordinator

In each of the last two seasons, UCLA has intercepted 18 passes. Three members of the secondary — Tom Sullivan (No. 3), Jimmy Turner (tied for No. 4) and Lupe Sanchez (tied for No. 7) — are listed on UCLA's career interception list. All this is a credit to Tom Hayes, who is concluding his third season as coach of the Bruin secondary and his first as a co-defensive coordinator.

In 1980, his first season in Westwood, he was blessed with three-time consensus All-American Kenny Easley, who stepped from the Bruins' lineup into a starting berth with the Seattle Seahawks. That year UCLA also ranked second in Pacific-10 Conference pass defense, interceptions, fewest passing touchdowns allowed and fewest yards per passing attempt.

Hayes came to UCLA from Cal State Fullerton, where he worked as defensive coordinator under former Bruin assistant Jim Colletto. During the 1979 season, his only one at Fullerton, Tom and the Titans leading the Pacific Coast Athletic Association in total defense as well as pass defense after ranking dead last the previous campaign.

A native of Keokuk, IA, Hayes began his coaching career as secondary coach at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, IA, after two seasons as a high school assistant. In his one season at Coe (1973), the secondary set a Midwest Conference record with 27 interceptions while the team won the league title.

His next stop was Carroll, IA, where he served as head coach at Kuemper High School for three seasons (1974-76) before returning to this alma mater, the University of Iowa. Hayes spent the next two seasons (1977-78) as the Hawkeye secondary coach.

Hayes, 33, attended Atlantic (IA) High School where he was a multi-sport star, earning a total of nine letters in football, basketball and track (three each) as well as All-State honors in both football and basketball. At the University of Iowa, he was a three-year starter in the secondary and signed a free agent contract with the Cincinnati Bengals at the end of his collegiate career.

Ed Kezirian

Assistant Coach

Ed Kezirian had other things on his mind the week of the 1977 USC-UCLA game. He was a graduate assistant coach in charge of opponents' films. He was also looking for full-time employment, as he told a sportswriter that hectic week. "As soon as the season is over I'll be seeking a full-time assistant's job," he said, a trace of sorrow in his voice. "I'd love to stay on here (at UCLA), but Terry (head coach Terry Donahue) wants experienced assistants and experience is what I need. Like him, someday down the road, I'll get back into this program."

Ed Kezirian returned to the UCLA football program to instruct the Bruins' young tackles and tight ends. There was no Tim Wrightman at tight end, no Luis Sharpe at right tackle, no returning All-Americans or all-conference performers. Needless to say, Ed had his hands full. But then, he was never one to shirk responsibility; not while working the farms and ranches around his native Fresno as a youngster, not while earning All-Pacific-8 Conference honors as a UCLA senior, not as a graduate assistant for the Bruins and not as a full-time assistant at the University of Hawaii. His hard work and tutoring helped Irv Eatman and Duval Love develop and solidify the tackle position during the latter half of the year.

Kezirian, 30, earned six varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball at Central Union High in Fresno. His fondest memories were catching a tackle-eligible touchdown pass and a two-point conversion pass for the winning points against Chowchilla as a senior and an interception that set up a TD while playing defensive tackle against Washington Union.

He spent two seasons at Reedley Junior College and two more at UCLA, earning all-conference honors and the Bruins' Kenneth S. Washington Award as the outstanding senior offensive player. After two years with the Southern California Sun of the World Football League, Ed returned to Westwood, his responsibilities during the next two seasons included coaching the offensive and defensive lines and scout teams.

In 1978 he was hired by Hawaii head coach and former Bruin assistant Dick Tomey. The next four years were spent coaching the Rainbows' tight ends, tackles and special teams. He coached the special teams his last two seasons and handled the entire offensive line in 1981.

Don Riley

Assistant Coach

The only remaining member of Terry Donahue's original staff, Don Riley is concluding his seventh coaching season in Westwood and is responsible for the Bruin centers and guards. Under Riley's guidance, UCLA's interior line has provided ample running room for such talented Bruin tailbacks as Freeman McNeil and Theotis Brown and this year has been a major reason for UCLA's successful passing attack. Five of Riley's proteges, including former Bruins Brent Boyd (Minnesota Vikings) and John Tautolo (New England Patriots) currently are playing in the NFL.

No one on the Bruin staff has more coaching experience than Riley. Now completing his 26th year in football, Riley is finishing his 17th season as a college coach, and also coached in the high schools ranks for nine years.

Before coming to Westwood in 1976, Riley spent four years at Oklahoma State (1972-75). Prior to that, he served six years at Vanderbilt (1966-71). If anything, Don's background is diverse. He has coached every position in collegiate football except the defensive line.

Following graduation from East Tennessee State University in Johnson City in 1956, he coached first at Lynch (KY) High, his alma mater, for three years (1956-58); one year (1959) at East Tennessee State, and then six years (1960-1965) as head coach and athletic director at Greenville (TN) High. Incidentally, in nine years of prep coaching, Don's teams won 70 percent of their games.

A fine athlete, Riley was an All-Kentucky State quarterback at Lynch High where he lettered in basketball as well. He then went to Lamar (CO) Junior College and starred at quarterback for one season. He transferred to East Tennessee State and played quarterback for three years. He also played two years of college baseball.

Greg Robinson

Assistant Coach

The newest member of Terry Donahue's staff, Greg Robinson returned home to his native Los Angeles after a two-year stint as linebacker coach at North Carolina State. Robinson, 31, brought with him impressive credentials from the Atlantic Coast Conference, where the Wolfpack boasted one of the most respected defenses in the nation. At UCLA, he handles the defensive line.

Last season, N.C. State held Fiesta Bowl champion Penn State to 198 total yards and highly touted South Carolina to 124. In the past two seasons, two of Robinson's linebackers, Neal Musser (Atlanta Falcons) and Robert Abraham (Houston Oilers), have made professional rosters.

A fine recruiter, Robinson spent three seasons at Cal State Fullerton where he coached the Titan offensive linemen in 1977, defensive linemen in 1978 and the linebackers in '79. At the University of the Pacific, where he graduated in 1975 with a BA in political science, he tutored the receivers as a graduate assistant and later the defensive linemen.

Born in Los Angeles, he prepped at Garces High in Bakersfield where he earned varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball. A versatile football player, he lettered two years at three positions, linebacker, tight end and center while at UOP.

Following high school, he attended Bakersfield Junior College, receiving letters as a linebacker and tight end, while playing on the Renegade team that was ranked No. 1 nationally.

Homer Smith

Offensive Coordinator

Quarterback Tom Ramsey was inserted into UCLA's starting lineup about the same time Homer Smith returned to Westwood as offensive coordinator prior to the 1980 season. The parallel is natural because as Ramsey began playing regularly, Smith's offensive innovations started gaining the same notoriety as his Wishbone-T invention of the early 1970's.

Smith who handles the quarterbacks as well as the receivers, has helped Ramsey become the nation's top-ranked passer in 1982. In addition, Ramsey now holds virtually every single-season and career passing record at UCLA and the Bruins have rewritten the record book this season.

In the 1970's, Smith installed UCLA's awesome Wishbone formation under the auspices of Pepper Rodgers. This offense, still copied by some schools, rewrote the UCLA record book by averaging 42.7 points and 470.6 total yards in 1973 — standards that still exist.

After that 1973 campaign, Homer followed Rodgers to Georgia Tech but was appointed head coach at Army prior to the 1974 season. The Cadets were noted for their offense during the next five years (1974-78) and in 1976 quarterback Leamon Hall ranked sixth nationally in passing and seventh in total offense.

Homer starred in football, basketball and track at Omaha (NE) Benson High and prepped at Lawrenceville School in Lawrence, NJ, before entering Princeton. There he won All-East and All-Ivy League honors at fullback as a junior and senior, and also was a standout in track. His biggest day as a collegian came in 1952 when he smashed school records by rushing for 273 yard and scoring four touchdowns. He graduated in 1954 with honors in economics and recently earned his MA in theological studies from Harvard Divinity School. In addition, he also received an MBA from Stanford in 1960.

Smith's collegiate coaching career began in 1958 when he was named head frosh coach at Stanford. After three seasons (1958-60), he became backfield coach at the Air Force Academy, a position he held for four years (1961-64).

He then became a collegiate head coach, taking over at Davidson in 1965. He served in that capacity for five years (1965-69) and capped his career there by leading the team to a berth in the 1969 Tangerine Bowl. Then it was on to University of the Pacific, where he served for two seasons (1970-71) before joining the Bruin staff for the first time.

Ted Williams Assistant Coach

The strength of a defense is usually measured by the play of the inside linebackers, and, thanks to the tutoring of Ted Williams, completing his third year on the staff, the Bruins have some outstanding ILBs. Senior Blanchard Montgomery, junior Ron Butler and sophomore Lee Knowles have all made major contributions to UCLA's 9-1-1 record in 1982.

Williams made a habit of being a successful football teacher during his years as a high school coach. He joined the UCLA staff in March, 1980, from Los Angeles City College where he had been named head coach the previous month. Before his appointment to LACC, he served as head coach at Compton (CA) High School where he earned a reputation as one of the most respected prep coaches in the area.

He compiled a fine 44-21-3 record in six seasons as the Compton head coach, and in 1978 his team captured the CIF Coastal Conference championship. The following year, Compton was CIF runner-up to Long Beach Millikan and Williams was honored as Coastal Conference Coach of the Year. He also guided the Tarbabes to a 21-game winning streak (snapped by Millikan) and lost a total of only three games in his final three seasons at Compton.

Prior to becoming head coach at Compton, he worked at the school for six seasons as an assistant coach. His assignments include tackles and tight ends, linebackers and defensive ends, down linemen, receivers, running backs and quarterbacks, giving him first-hand knowledge on coaching many different positions.

In addition to his coaching assignments, William also served as Compton athletic director from 1974-77 and taught biology, mathematics and physical education.

Williams, 39, graduated from Cal Poly Pomona in 1965 with a degree in physical education. While at Pomona, he lettered in basketball and baseball. He also owns a Masters Degree in Physical Education as well as Standard Teaching, Supervision and Administrative Credentials from Cal State University, Los Angeles.

Ron Davis Assistant Coach

Ron Davis is completing his third year on the Bruin staff. He has served as a part-time assistant the past two seasons after joining the staff as a volunteer coach in 1980. His duties include assisting Greg Robinson with the defensive line, running the offensive scout team, scouting for the defense and assisting with the film exchange program. Davis earned three letters (1977-78-79) as a Bruin offensive guard.

Geoff DeLapp Assistant Coach

Geoff DeLapp, former standout at the University of California, is completing his first season as a member of the Bruin coaching staff. He came to UCLA this past summer after serving as head coach at Cypress (CA) High School and his duties include working with the defensive scout team and breaking down films for the offense. As a receiver at Cal, his best year was 1971 when he caught 48 passes. He ranks No. 6 on the Golden Bears' all-time reception list with 100 catches.

Frank Stephens Assistant Coach

A three-year letterman as an outside linebacker, Frank Stephens is in his first season as a member of the Bruin coaching staff. He was a sophomore on the last UCLA team to reach the Rose Bowl Jan. 1, 1976 but did not play due to a broken leg suffered prior to the USC game that year. In his three years (1975-76-77) with the Bruin varsity, Stephens started 27 games and made 313 tackles, earning second-team All-Coast honors in '76. His duties including working with the defensive scout team along with George DeLapp.

Long Beach State	7	3	0	0	— 10
UCLA	10	21	7	3	— 41

The Bruins, in their inaugural game at the Rose Bowl, displayed the new artillery of what would become their big-play offense. Senior flanker Jojo Townsell caught touchdown passes of 23, 48, 32 and 18 yards — all in the first half — as UCLA built a 31-10 halftime margin. Townsell's four touchdown receptions set new UCLA school records for career touchdown catches and TD receptions in a game.

The Bruins amassed 469 yards in total offense with senior quarterback Tom Ramsey connecting on 18 of 31 attempts for 286 yards. Ramsey's first scoring toss established him as the most prolific TD passer in UCLA history.

Dokie Williams, UCLA's reserve split end and kickoff return specialist, established himself as one of the country's most dangerous return men, running back three kickoffs for 136 yards, including one 80-yard romp.

The Bruins thwarted the Badgers' upset hopes by scoring 24 points in the first 23 minutes enroute to a 30-6 halftime advantage. Coach Terry Donahue called it "the best ever (first half) by one of my teams" as UCLA rolled up 300 yards in total offense by intermission, 221 of it in the air.

Tom Ramsey had another fine day, completing 17 of 24 attempts for 260 yards and two touchdowns to tight ends Paul Bergmann and Harper Howell. Senior Cormac Carney led the team with five receptions for 76 yards, moving into a tie for third place on UCLA's career receiving list. Jojo Townsell's two catches moved him into a tie for fifth on the career list.

Though Badger quarterback Randy Wright threw for 246 yards and two touchdowns, the Bruins held Wisconsin to just 66 yards on the ground, including 34 yards in losses. Of UCLA's three interceptions, cornerback Lupe Sanchez had two.

In one of the greatest comebacks in UCLA history, Tom Ramsey rallied the Bruins from a 21-0 second quarter deficit to UCLA's first-ever victory over the Wolverines.

The Wolverines scored first as a result of an interception (the only one Ramsey threw on the day), and then, in the second period, Michigan took advantage of the Bruins' poor field position and mounted a seven-play scoring drive which started from UCLA's 42. After UCLA lost nine yards on a series beginning at its own 13, punter Kevin Buenafe fumbled the snap on fourth down. His kick was blocked for a net of just two yards. Michigan needed just three plays, the scoring call going to Anthony Carter on a five-yard pass from quarterback Steve Smith.

The next series proved the turning point for UCLA as the Bruins converted on two key fourth down plays, the first a Frank Bruno second-effort plunge, and the second, a Ramsey to Frank Cephous pass. After a penalty gave the Bruins third and 25, Ramsey hit Dokie Williams at the Michigan three and Williams scored from there to complete a 46-yard play.

After the Bruins stopped Michigan's next series, Ramsey passed for two first downs and then hit Jojo Townsell on a spectacular 25-yard pass play to set up a quarterback sneak from the one that made it 21-14.

Despite a Michigan field goal with 0:01 left in the half, the Bruins scored on their first possession on a six-yard Ramsey to Townsell hookup. The Wolverines got a 37-yard Ali Haji-Sheikh field goal with 4:32 to play in the third period, but Dokie Williams returned the ensuing kickoff 65 yards and the Bruins later scored on Nelson's two-yard run to take a 28-27 lead.

On the next possession, UCLA's freshman kicker John Lee drilled a 26-yard field goal for 31-27.

Michigan's last-chance drive came after UCLA fumble with 1:05 to play, but Steve Smith's pass to Anthony Carter with 0:02 to play fell incomplete.

Despite starting sluggishly, the Bruins mounted another solid air attack enroute to their fourth consecutive victory and third straight on the road.

Tom Ramsey threw for 280 yards, completing 16 of 24 passes, one a 50-yard scoring strike to Dokie Williams. Ramsey's stats established him as the nation's most efficient passer, a spot he would hold for the next eight weeks. He also became UCLA's career record holder for pass completions.

Cormac Carney led all receivers with six catches for 103 yards as "Air Donahue" threw for 338 yards as a team, the second most in UCLA history (at the time). Eleven different receivers caught passes as UCLA averaged 17.5 yards per catch.

Frank Cephus led all rushers with 50 yards on 11 carries, including a three-yard touchdown run. It was the junior's fourth start of his career and first at tailback.

This see-saw battle really began in the final 0:33. Frustrated most of the afternoon by an effective Arizona blitz, the Bruins began to mount a late drive from their own 35. On third and nine, after Tom Ramsey was sacked for the seventh time, the Bruin quarterback threw his second interception and the Wildcats took over at UCLA's 34. When three Arizona running plays gained eight yards, the Bruins called time and the Wildcats readied for the 43-yard field goal. Max Zendejas' attempt split the uprights for what appeared to be a 24-21 Wildcat victory with 33 seconds remaining in the game.

But UCLA downed the ensuing kickoff and Ramsey's six-yard pass to Kevin Nelson got 15 more after Arizona was cited for a person foul. Ramsey then hit Paul Bergmann for 28 yards and Jojo Townsell gained another 12 at the Arizona 19. Ramsey's next pass to Cormac Carney in the end zone was nearly intercepted, but fell incomplete. With 0:06 remaining, the fate of the Bruins depended on freshman kicker John Lee, who responded by drilling a 36-yard field goal with just two seconds showing on the clock.

After the Cougars edged ahead 17-14 with 8:03 remaining in the third period, the Bruins exploded for 28 points in a nine-minute span to erase any hopes of a WSU upset.

Jojo Townsell's 53-yard reverse down the west sideline ignited the Bruin attack and then five minutes later, Tom Ramsey hit Cormac Carney, the game's leading receiver, for a 27-yard scoring play. On the Cougar's next series, Bruin linebacker Blanchard Montgomery returned an interception 65 yards for six points and with 45 seconds gone in the final period, Dokie Williams scored the Bruins final touchdown on a 20-yard pass from Ramsey.

Until UCLA's third quarter spurt, the Cougars showed remarkable strength for a team devastated by injuries. WSU trailed only 14-7 at halftime, outgaining the Bruins 214 to 156 in total offense.

Carney's five catches gave him 92 for his career at UCLA as he surpassed Kurt Altenberg's first-place total of 87 on the career list.

Just as in the Washington State game, when the Bruins were backed up against the wall, they responded by scoring points and shutting down California's momentum. The Bears took a 14-7 lead late in the first period, but UCLA retaliated in one play, Tom Ramsey and Jojo Townsell hooking up for a 67-yard touchdown.

UCLA's 17 second-period points all were scored or set up by big pass plays. Ramsey connected with Cormac Carney for a 53 yard pass on third and seven from the Bruin 39 and three plays later John Lee hit a 27-yard field goal. Safety Tom Sullivan intercepted a Gale Gilbert pass on the Bears' next possession and a 25-yard Ramsey to Paul Bergmann pass set up Frank Bruno's eight-yard touchdown run. After UCLA stopped Cal's next series, Ramsey was shaken up on a sack. His replacement, junior Rick Neuheisel, hit Dokie Williams on a short slant-in and the former track star outsprinted the Bear secondary for a 75-yard touchdown.

But the Bears, who trailed 31-17 at halftime, got two quick touchdowns to knot the score, 31-31.

A Lupe Sanchez interception late in the third period gave the Bruins the ball at the Cal 35, and after three plays following a first and goal situation from the Bear three, the Bruins kicked a 20-yard field goal.

In Irv Eatman's debut at offensive left tackle, a position he had not played since his freshman year, the Bruin running game finally emerged on a rainy Pasadena afternoon. Eleven different Bruins rushed for a total of 217 yards and kicker John Lee tied the UCLA record with four field goals, all from 30 yards or more.

Though Tom Ramsey was plagued by the wet conditions — seven completions in 21 attempts — his touchdown pass to Harper Howell in the third quarter was his 17th of the season and broke his own school record of 16 set last year. It was the 12th straight game in which Ramsey had thrown a TD pass and the 16th in the last 17.

Cornerback Lupe Sanchez set up two UCLA touchdowns, returning a punt 54 yards to set up Ramsey's pass to Howell, and recovering a fumble for Frank Cephous' one-yard run in the third period.

Three fumbles and two interceptions thwarted hopes of a UCLA victory in this game as the Huskies prevailed on a cold, wet afternoon at Husky Stadium. Though the Bruins outgained last year's Rose Bowl champions on offense and the defense limited the powerful UW running game to 102 yards after the Huskies scored with 8:26 remaining in the first quarter, the timely turnovers helped UW avenge last year's 31-0 UCLA victory.

The Huskies marched downfield after the Bruins' first possession, tailback Jacque Robinson scoring untouched from the four to cap a 14-play, 70-yard drive.

the Bruins appeared on their way to equalize midway through the second period when Tom Ramsey, on second and five from the UW 47, connected with Cormac Carney running a crossing pattern. Carney, however, in an attempt to switch the ball from his right to left hand, fumbled it way.

The Huskies got an 18-yard Chuck Nelson field goal, his 27th straight, late in the third period after a Ramsey pass intended for Jojo Townsell was intercepted.

The Bruins, after a Jeff Partridge punt bounced into the end zone, went 80 yards in three plays, Ramsey hooking up with Townsell for a 39-yard strike with 5:37 left to play. But UCLA's comeback bid failed when tailback Danny Andrews was unable to hang on to Ramsey's fourth and six pass at the Husky 20 yard line.

Att: 78,452

What promised to be an aerial show did not disappoint UCLA's largest non-USC crowd in 12 years (78,452). John Elway and Tom Ramsey, high school rivals from the San Fernando Valley, completed 48 passes in 66 attempts for 666 yards and four touchdowns. Combined, the teams rolled up 1,129 yards in total offense with UCLA gaining a season-high 337 yards on the ground. The Bruins' 651 yards total offense were the second most in school history.

In the character of the past six years, the game was decided in the last eight minutes, though the Bruins' final score with 4:49 to play gave them an 11 point lead. Following Ramsey's five-yard touchdown run to cap UCLA's scoring, Elway directed the Cardinal downfield in less than a minute, threw a five-yard TD pass to Vincent White and then connected with White again for the two-point conversion.

UCLA returned the ensuing kickoff to its own 11 and with the help of a 25-yard fake reverse and Ramsey's 16-yard run on second and 13, the Bruins had iced the game. Tailbacks Danny Andrews and Kevin Nelson rushed for 148 and 90 yards, respectively, the Nos. 1 and 2 efforts by Bruin backs this year.

USC	3	7	0	9	— 19

The Bruins avenged their 1981 22-21 loss to the Trojans by making a big defensive play, reminiscent of George Achica's blocked field goal on the final play of the game the year before.

With no time remaining, the Trojans, who had driven to the UCLA one and were faced with fourth and goal, scored on a Scott Tinsely to Mark Boyer pass in the corner of the north end zone. Down by a point, there was no question in coach John Robinson's mind that USC would get the two-point conversion to win the 52nd game between the two schools. Tinsley dropped straight back to pass, and while his offensive line opened a hole for tailback Todd Spencer to run a pass route, UCLA, which had called a 53 Pop, sent noseguard Karl Morgan through that gap. Morgan, playing on a battered knee and a weak left ankle, sacked the Trojan quarterback to preserve the Bruins' victory in one of the most dramatic plays in the series' history.

THE ROSE BOWL

Early Rose Bowl Games were played in Tournament Park, now a part of the campus of California Institute of Technology. The present Rose Bowl — built in 1922 — was used for a regular season game between USC and California prior to the first Rose Bowl Game in the stadium on New Year's Day, 1923. It was originally horseshoe shaped and seated 57,000 persons. The South end was enclosed in time for the 1929 game, and enlarged to seat 76,000 spectators. Demands for more and more seats led to further enlargements in 1932 to 83,677 seats, and again in 1949 to 100,807. This number includes the press box which is built to accommodate 359 newsmen. And now more changes. All new seats, both grandstand and loge have been installed since 1971, and new red backs were added on 22,000 seats prior to the 1980 game. The increased seating puts the capacity up to 104,091. However, a record 106,869 squeezed in for the USC-Ohio State renewal in 1973.

The Rose Bowl is one of the finest football stadiums in America. It was built specifically for football, but was used for portions of the Olympic Games in 1932. The Rose Bowl has 77 rows of seats. It measures 880 feet from north to south rims and 695 feet from east to west rims. Its circumference around the rim is 2,430 feet, while the circumference around the inside at field level is 1,350. It took 28 miles of lumber to provide the original seats for the Rose Bowl. The turfed area inside the bowl is 79,156 square feet. The field runs north and south.

A new press box, on the west rim of the Rose Bowl, was completed prior to the 1962 Rose Bowl game at a cost of $356,000. It includes an elevator and two enclosed levels for the convenience of the nation's sportswriters and sportscasters who give this "granddaddy" of all bowl games worldwide coverage.

The fence around the Rose Bowl is one mile in circumference. Planted between the fence and the bowl itself are over 3,000 rose bushes of some 100 varieties. These are maintained by the Pasadena Administrative Services Department. Built on land purchased from the City of Pasadena, the Rose Bowl was built, paid for, and then donated to the City by the Tournament of Roses Association, a non-profit organization of 1,400 members.

The Rose Bowl has many "firsts" to its record. Important among these occurred January 1, 1927, when radio stations across the nation were linked together for the first time in a coast-to-coast broadcast. The first west-to-east color telecasts on a nationwide hook-up were the Rose Parade and Rose Bowl Game on January 1, 1954. UCLA and Michigan State participated in that game.

Since 1969, improvements have been made in the lighting system, players benches, dressing rooms, concession areas and rest rooms.

For the 1982 game, the seating capacity is:

Bowl Seats	103,402
Press Box	359
Band Areas	330
Total	104,091

VIRGIL LUBBERDEN

Rose Bowl Game Manager

Around the Christmas time every year, there is someone almost as busy as Santa Claus. He's Virgil Lubberden, one of USC's three associated athletic directors.

Besides his USC duties, Lubberden is the game manager for the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of all the New Year's Day classics. He made his Rose Bowl debut as manager in 1963 when USC beat Wisconsin in that memorable 42-37 game. After several years of alternating as Rose Bowl manager with his UCLA counterpart, Virg was named to the position permanently in 1973.

In his 19th year of managing USC's business affairs, Lubberden became an associate athletic director seven years ago. He had served as an assistant athletic director the previous three years.

As the business manager, Virg formulates the USC athletic budget that covers 24 sports. He also prepared contracts with opponents in all sports and negotiates rental fees with the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum for football and Sports Arena for basketball.

His other responsibilities include the purchase of athletic medical insurance, negotiation for radio and television coverage, supervision of game management for home events and assisting in the scheduling of football opponents.

Four years ago he took on the added duty of Director of University Relations for the ticket office.

A USC graduate, Lubberden received his bachelor of science degree in business administration in 1949.

ROSE BOWL STADIUM CELEBRATES 60TH ANNIVERSARY — The famed Rose Bowl Stadium, which annually hosts the New Year's Day classic between the Pacific-10 and Big Ten football conferences, celebrates the 60th anniversary of the first Pasadena Tournament of Roses game ever played on the field. A capacity 56,000 spectators watched the first Rose Bowl Stadium Game on January 1, 1923.
